

Tea for Two

Each Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Museum Council Chamber

Upcoming Programs

April 4 – Glenn M. Isaacs – Glenn is a Coast Guard Auxiliary Public Affairs Specialist and will speak on shipbuilding in Mobile and Baldwin counties and how this laid the groundwork for today's Aural and Airbus.

April 11 – Jack Burrell – Jack is currently president of the Fairhope City Council and will tell us his Fairhope story. He will fill us in on the latest goings-on with the Fairhope City Council.

April 18 – Stephen McNair, Ph.D. – Stephen is a professional historic preservation consultant formerly hired by the City of Fairhope to advise the City Council. He will tell us of the benefits of historic preservation.

April 25 – Donnie Barrett – Donnie will continue the Alabama 200 celebration with a program on the Alabama Indians in our area. He will demonstrate pottery and arrow making.

May 2 – Donna Esslinger – Donna is a collector of rare books and a professional book appraiser who assessed the Marie Howland collection we have in our archives. She invites you to bring an old book and she will appraise it for free!

May 9 – Eastern Shore Ukulele Club – The club members will play a selection of their favorite tunes. It is happy, good-feeling music! Their leader Carl Couret will tell us a bit about ukulele music and its popularity in our area.

May 16 – Lt. Stephanie Hollinghead – The museum has had several Fairhope Police officers here to tell their stories at our Tuesday teas. Continuing our support of our Police officers, we present Lt. Hollinghead to share her Fairhope story with us.

May 23 – Gary Wolf – Gary came to Fairhope in the 1960's to manage the Bayview Funeral Home. Over the years, he has acquired most of the funeral homes in our area. He and his wife Judy are backbone members of our Fairhope community. Come and hear his interesting story.

May 30 – Zach Sierke – Zach is a potter on Twin Beech Rd. who produces beautiful wares using natural glazes. He will describe what is happening today in the art pottery industry.
