According to the U.S. E.P.A., the objectives of an abandonment procedure are to: 1) eliminate physical hazards; 2) prevent groundwater contamination; 3) conserve aquifer yield and hydrostatic head; 4) prevent intermixing of subsurface water. The purpose of sealing an abandoned well is to prevent any further disturbance to the pre-existing hydrogeologic conditions that exist within the subsurface. The plug should prevent the vertical movement within the borehole and confine the water to the original zone of occurrence (U.S. EPA, 1991).

Selection of the appropriate method of well abandonment should be made after considering: 1) the casing material, 2) casing condition, 3) diameter of the casing, 4) quality of the original seal, 5) depth of the well, 6) well plumbness, 7) hydrogeologic setting and 8) the level of contamination and the zone or zones where contamination occurs. If no cross-contamination can occur between various zones and contamination cannot enter from the surface, grouting the well from bottom to top without removing the casing may be sufficient. However, since the primary purpose of monitoring well abandonment is to eliminate the vertical migration of fluids along the borehole, removal of the casing is the preferred method of well abandonment. When the casing is removed, the borehole can be sealed completely and there is less potential for channeling in the annular space or inadequate casing/grout seals (U.S. EPA, 1991).

Regulatory requirements and accepted procedures for the abandonment of monitoring wells, public water supply wells and domestic water wells vary depending upon the regulatory program which required the well to be installed and/or regulates its use, the geologic environment in which the well is located, the purpose and use of the well and the type of well installed. The appropriate subsection listed below should be consulted prior to planning a well abandonment program. Some regulatory programs require a plan to be submitted prior to attempting well abandonment. In situations where a plan is not required before well abandonment is performed, consultation with the appropriate ADEM personnel is highly recommended.

PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY WELLS

Public water supply wells should be abandoned only after consultation with the ADEM Water Supply Branch (See note on next page).

ADEM Division 7 Water Supply Program

Admin. Code R. 335-7-5-.16, states:

Abandoned wells partially completed wells and bore holes shall be filled and sealed to prevent contamination of ground water formations. Where feasible, or when required by the Department, wells shall be completely filled with neat cement. Other wells shall be sealed in accordance with American Water Works Association (AWWA) Standard A100 Section 13. And Appendix G, latest edition except that the sealing material for the top 20 feet of fill must be neat cement and no material that could impart taste, odor, or toxic components to water may be used in the sealing process.

American Water Works Association Standards A100-(latest edition)

Sec.13.1 General

Abandoned test holes, including test wells, partially completed wells, and completed wells, shall be sealed.

13.1.1 Need for sealing wells. wells need to be sealed for the following reasons:

- To eliminate physical hazards,
- To prevent contamination of groundwater,
- To conserve yield and hydrostatic head of aquifer, and
- to prevent intermingling of desirable and undesirable waters.

13.1.2 Restoration of geological conditions. The guiding principle to be followed by the contractor in the sealing of abandoned wells is the restoration, as far as feasible, of the controlling geological conditions that existed before the well was drilled or constructed.

American Water Works Association Standards A100(latest edition)

Sec.13.2 Sealing requirements

A well shall be measured for depth before it is sealed to ensure freedom from obstructions that may interfere with effective sealing operations.

13.2.1 Casing removal. Removal of casing from some wells may be necessary to ensure placement of an effective seal.

13.2.2 Exception to removing casing. If the casing cannot be readily removed, it shall be perforated to ensure the proper sealing required.

13.2.3 Sealing materials and placement. Concrete, cement grout, sealing clay or neat cement shall be used as primary sealing materials and shall be placed from the bottom upward by methods that will avoid segregation or dilution of material.

American Water Works Association Standards A100-(latest edition)
Sec.13.3 Records of Abandonment Procedures

Complete, accurate records shall be kept of the entire abandonment procedure to provide detailed records for possible future reference and to demonstrate to the governing state or local agency that the hole was properly sealed.

13.3.1 Depths sealed. The depth of each layer of all sealing and backfilling materials shall be recorded.

13.3.2 Quantity of sealing material used. The quantity of sealing materials used shall be recorded. Measurements of static water levels and depths shall be recorded.

13.3.3 Changes recorded. Any changes in the well made during the plugging or sealing, such as perforating casing, shall be recorded in detail.

Appendix G is attached for reference and is noted in AWWA A100 that it is for information only and is not a part of AWWA A100.
