Upcoming Programs

August 4 – Michelle Kurtz – Michelle will tell us about the new coastal insurance work group she has organized with Joe Faust and Trip Pittman.

August 11 – Donnie Barrett – Donnie will dress in period costume and tell the story of the Massacre at Fort Mims. This major American tragedy changed American History.

August 18 – Harriet Outlaw – Harriet will premiere her new book “Haunted Baldwin County” which will be released August 10, 2015. She will tell us her best stories and invite the audience to tell her theirs.

August 25 – Diana Brewer – Diana is the Director of Marketing & Public Relations for the Gulf Quest National Maritime Museum of the Gulf of Mexico and will give us a report on the exciting opening of the grand facility on September 26, 2015. She is also a member of the Fairhope City Council.

September 1 – John Borom – John will tell us about the Alabama Coastal Birdfest. This week-long event happens at birding sites all along the coast and attracts hundreds of visitors from all across the nation.

September 8 – John Nelson – John is a life-long Fairhopian who has operated many businesses here and was once Director of the Eastern Shore Chamber. His great-grandmother was Delia Bancroft, Fairhope founder and his wife is Mary Ann of Mary Ann’s Deli fame.

September 15 – Gay Lindsey – Gay is the Director of “Poppies for Veterans: Symbols of Sacrifice”. Gay will tell us about this ongoing art project to produce these hundreds of ceramic poppies and the meaning behind it.

September 22 – Corky Ellard – Corky is a member of the Schermer Pecan family and has worked for many years for the community of Fairhope doing civic service with youth groups and other activities. This is a real Fairhope story!

September 29 – Sherilyn McNally – Sherilyn has organized a troop of actors and actresses who plan to do Shakespearean & other type plays here in the old fashion Fairhope style. She will tell us about her program and present several samples of their plays.
